COUNTRY Poland COUNTRY Poland SUBJECT Status of Tanning Industry/Military Clothing NO. OF PAGES PACT ACQUIRE DATE ACQUIRE DATE OF Lanning agents needed by the leather industry. Solid and ponder tenning agents were used more extensivel use of synthetic tanning agents were used more extensivel use of synthetic tanning agents was discontinued in 1952. The chemical industry in Poland is in its infancy, whether the chemical industry has the ability to provide the basic chemicals for the tanning industry. A dye factory near Piotrkow produced dyes which would fade and run when wet. The Chemical Import Central was responsible for the purchase of varior chemicals requested by the tanning industry. The produced dyes which would fade and run when wet. The Chemical Import Central was responsible for the purchase of varior chemicals requested by the tanning industry. There is a shortage of chemicals even though sufficient funds had been allocated to purchase those chemicals on the foreign market. Because the shortage is continuous the regime is eager to expand the chemical industry in Poland. 4. A factory producing military clothing was located on Pomorska Ulica in Lodz. The chemical servers, as far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military uose, however, as far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military only. Light industry, including the leather industry, operates on a	24
SUBJECT Status of Tanning Industry/Military Clothing NO. OF PAGES PACE ACQUIRE DATE ACQUIRE DATE OF THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION 1. In all tanning factories vegetable tanning agents were used exclusive tanning agents needed by the leather industry. Solid and powder tanning agents were used, however, the solid agents were used more extensively use of synthetic tanning agents was discontinued in 1952. 2. The chemical industry in Poland is in its infancy, whether the chemical industry has the ability to provide the basic chemicals for the tanning industry. A gy factory near Piotrkow produced dyes which would fade and run when wet. 3. The Chemical Import Central was responsible for the purchase of various chemicals requested by the tanning industry. There is a shortage of chemicals even though sufficient funds had been allocated to purchase those chemicals on the foreign market. Because the shortage is continuous the regime is eager to expand the chemical industry in Poland. 4. A factory producing military clothing was located on Pomorska Ulica in Lodz. there were other factories which were converted for military use, however, unable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military is not available to personnel employed at the factory.
PLACE ACQUIRE DATE OF In all tanning factories vegetable tanning agents were used exclusive tanning agents needed by the leather industry. Solid and powder tanning agents were used industry use of synthetic tanning agents was discontinued in 1952. The chemical industry in Poland is in its infancy, whether the chemicals industry has the ability to provide the basic chemicals for the tanning industry. A dye factory near Piotrkow produced dyes which would fade and run when wet. The Chemical Import Central was responsible for the purchase of various chemicals requested by the tanning industry. There is a shortage of chemicals even though sufficient funds had been allocated to purchase those chemicals on the foreign market. Because the shortage is continuous the regime is eager to expand the chemical industry in Poland. 4. A factory producing military clothing was located on Pomorska Ulica in Lodz. there were other factories which were converted for military use, however, unable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military is not available to personnel employed at the factory.
PLACE ACQUIRE DATE ACQUIRE DATE OF THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION 1. In all tanning factories vegetable tanning agents were used exclusive tanning agents needed by the leather industry. Solid and powder tanning agents were used, however, the solid agents were used more extensivel use of synthetic tanning agents was discontinued in 1952. 2. The chemical industry in Poland is in its infancy, whether the chemical industry has the ability to provide the basic chemicals for the tanning industry. A dye factory near Plotrkow produced dyes which would fade and run when wet. 3. The Chemical Import Central was responsible for the purchase of various chemicals requested by the tanning industry, there is a shortage of chemicals even though sufficient funds had been allocated to purchase those chemicals on the foreign market. Because the shortage is continuous the regime is eager to expand the chemical industry in Poland. 4. A factory producing military clothing was located on Pomorska Ulica in Lodz, there were other factories which were converted for military use, nowever, unable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military use, nowever, unable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military is not available to personnel employed at the factory.	b 54
DATE OF 1. In all tanning factories vegetable tanning agents were used exclusive supplied the tanning agents needed by the leather industry. Solid and powder tanning agents were used, however, the solid agents were used more extensivel use of synthetic tanning agents was discontinued in 1952. 2. The chemical industry in Poland is in its infancy, whether the chemical industry has the ability to provide the basic chemicals for the tanning industry. A dye factory near Piotrkow produced dyes which would fade and run when wet. 3. The Chemical Import Central was responsible for the purchase of various chemicals requested by the tanning industry, there is a shortage of chemicals on the foreign market. Because the shortage is continuous the regime is eager to expand the chemical industry in Poland. 4. A factory producing military clothing was located on Pomorska Ulica in Lodz. there were other factories which were converted for military use, however, unable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military use, however, unable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military is not available to personnel employed at the factory.	25X1
THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION 1. In all tanning factories vegetable tanning agents were used exclusive supplied the tanning agents needed by the leather industry. Solid and powder tanning agents were used, however, the solid agents were used more extensively use of synthetic tanning agents was discontinued in 1952. 2. The chemical industry in Poland is in its infancy, whether the chemical industry has the ability to provide the basic chemicals for the tanning industry. A dye factory near Piotrkow produced dyes which would fade and run when wet. 3. The Chemical Import Central was responsible for the purchase of various chemicals requested by the tanning industry. In there is a shortage of chemicals even though sufficient funds had been allocated to purchase those chemicals on the foreign market. Because the shortage is continuous the regime is eager to expand the chemical industry in Poland. 4. A factory producing military clothing was located on Pomorska Ulica in Lodz. there were other factories which were converted for military use, however, unable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military is not available to personnel employed at the factory.	25)
This is unevaluated information 1. In all tanning factories vegetable tanning agents were used exclusive supplied the tanning agents needed by the leather industry. Solid and powder tanning agents were used more extensively use of synthetic tanning agents was discontinued in 1952. 2. The chemical industry in Poland is in its infancy, whether the chemical industry has the ability to provide the basic chemicals for the tanning industry. A dye factory near Piotrkow produced dyes which would fade and run when wet. 3. The Chemical Import Central was responsible for the purchase of various chemicals requested by the tanning industry. There is a shortage of chemicals even though sufficient funds had been allocated to purchase those chemicals on the foreign market. Because the shortage is continuous the regime is eager to expand the chemical industry in Poland. 4. A factory producing military clothing was located on Pomorska Ulica in Lodz, there were other factories which were converted for military use, however, unable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military is not available to personnel employed at the factory.
1. In all tanning factories vegetable tanning agents were used exclusive supplied the tanning agents needed by the leather industry. Solid and powder tanning agents were used, however, the solid agents were used more extensively use of synthetic tanning agents was discontinued in 1952. 2. The chemical industry in Poland is in its infancy, whether the chemical industry has the ability to provide the basic chemicals for the tanning industry. A dye factory near Piotrkow produced dyes which would fade and run when wet. 3. The Chemical Import Central was responsible for the purchase of various chemicals requested by the tanning industry, there is a shortage of chemicals even though sufficient funds had been allocated to purchase those chemicals on the foreign market. Because the shortage is continuous the regime is eager to expand the chemical industry in Poland. 4. A factory producing military clothing was located on Pomorska Ulica in Lodz. In there were other factories which were converted for military use, however, unable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military is not available to personnel employed at the factory.
tanning agents needed by the leather industry. Solid and powder tanning agents were used, however, the solid agents were used more extensively use of synthetic tanning agents was discontinued in 1952. 2. The chemical industry in Poland is in its infancy. whether the chemical industry has the ability to provide the basic chemicals for the tanning industry. A dye factory near Piotrkow produced dyes which would fade and run when wet. 3. The Chemical Import Central was responsible for the purchase of various chemicals requested by the tanning industry. there is a shortage of chemicals even though sufficient funds had been allocated to purchase those chemicals on the foreign market. Because the shortage is continuous the regime is eager to expand the chemical industry in Poland. 4. A factory producing military clothing was located on Pomorska Ulica in Lodz. there were other factories which were converted for military use, however, unable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military is not available to personnel employed at the factory. 5. The present six-year plan in Poland is concerned with heavy industry
tanning agents needed by the leather industry. Solid and powder tanning agents were used, however, the solid agents were used more extensively use of synthetic tanning agents was discontinued in 1952. 2. The chemical industry in Poland is in its infancy. whether the chemical industry has the ability to provide the basic chemicals for the tanning industry. A dye factory near Piotrkow produced dyes which would fade and run when wet. 3. The Chemical Import Central was responsible for the purchase of various chemicals requested by the tanning industry. There is a shortage of chemicals even though sufficient funds had been allocated to purchase those chemicals on the foreign market. Because the shortage is continuous the regime is eager to expand the chemical industry in Poland. 4. A factory producing military clothing was located on Pomorska Ulica in Lodz. There were other factories which were converted for military use, however, Tunable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military is not available to personnel employed at the factory. 5. The present six-year plan in Polich is concerned with heavy industry
tanning agents needed by the leather industry. Solid and powder tanning agents were used, however, the solid agents were used more extensively use of synthetic tanning agents was discontinued in 1952. 2. The chemical industry in Poland is in its infancy. whether the chemical industry has the ability to provide the basic chemicals for the tanning industry. A dye factory near Piotrkow produced dyes which would fade and run when wet. 3. The Chemical Import Central was responsible for the purchase of various chemicals requested by the tanning industry. There is a shortage of chemicals even though sufficient funds had been allocated to purchase those chemicals on the foreign market. Because the shortage is continuous the regime is eager to expand the chemical industry in Poland. 4. A factory producing military clothing was located on Pomorska Ulica in Lodz. There were other factories which were converted for military use, however, Tunable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military is not available to personnel employed at the factory. 5. The present six-year plan in Polich is concerned with heavy industry
tanning agents needed by the leather industry. Solid and powder tanning agents were used, however, the solid agents were used more extensively use of synthetic tanning agents was discontinued in 1952. 2. The chemical industry in Poland is in its infancy. Whether the chemical industry has the ability to provide the basic chemicals for the tanning industry. A dye factory near Piotrkow produced dyes which would fade and run when wet. 3. The Chemical Import Central was responsible for the purchase of various chemicals requested by the tanning industry. There is a shortage of chemicals even though sufficient funds had been allocated to purchase those chemicals on the foreign market. Because the shortage is continuous the regime is eager to expand the chemical industry in Poland. 4. A factory producing military clothing was located on Pomorska Ulica in Lodz. There were other factories which were converted for military use, however, Tunable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military is not available to personnel employed at the factory. 5. The present six-year plan in Polich is concerned with heavy industry	ly.
whether the chemical industry has the ability to provide the basic chemicals for the tanning industry. A dye factory near Piotrkow produced dyes which would fade and run when wet. 3. The Chemical Import Central was responsible for the purchase of various chemicals requested by the tanning industry. there is a shortage of chemicals even though sufficient funds had peer allocated to purchase those chemicals on the foreign market. Because the shortage is continuous the regime is eager to expand the chemical industry in Poland. 4. A factory producing military clothing was located on Pomorska Ulica in Lodz. there were other factories which were converted for military use, however, unable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military is not available to personnel employed at the factory. 5. The present six-year plan in Poland is concerned with heavy industry there is a shortage of chemicals even though sufficient funds had been allocated to purchase those chemicals on the foreign market. Because the shortage is continuous the regime is eager to expand the chemical industry in Poland. 4. A factory producing military clothing was located on Pomorska Ulica in Lodz. there were other factories which were converted for military use, however, unable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military is not available to personnel employed at the factory. 5. The present six-year plan in Polica in the concerned with heavy industry	25>
Lodz. there were other factories which were converted for military use, however, unable to give the exact locations. As far as leather factories are concerned each factory produces goods for military consumption. What amount is destined for the military is not available to personnel employed at the factory. 5. The present six-year plan in Pothad is concerned with heavy industry	25)
5. The present six-year plan in Pothhd is concerned with heavy industry only. Light industry, including the leather industry, operates on a	25) 25) year to year basis. It is impossible to state whether both capital and non-capital goods are running ahead or behind schedule of the six-year plan. Polish newspapers stated that the six-year plan ending in 1955 was 110% fulfilled in May of last year /1952/.
	25>
CLASSIFICATION SECRET
EV-ORR DISTRIBUTION	